Children on the Move: Protection and Response Training Course

Introduction

The increasing movement of children across borders due to conflict, disasters, or economic instability has created urgent global challenges that demand targeted protection and response mechanisms. Children on the Move: Protection and Response Training Course equips participants with comprehensive knowledge and practical tools to address the vulnerabilities faced by children on the move. By integrating the latest research, international standards, and field-based strategies, the training ensures that participants can respond effectively to diverse situations, from emergency contexts to long-term displacement.

Participants will gain a holistic understanding of the risks, rights, and needs of children in migration contexts, learning how to design, implement, and monitor interventions that are child-centered, ethical, and impactful. Through interactive sessions, case studies, and scenario-based exercises, the course emphasizes practical application, empowering professionals to protect children, advocate for their rights, and strengthen institutional capacities to respond to crises.

Course Objectives

1. Understand the dynamics and drivers of child migration and displacement.
2. Analyze protection risks faced by children on the move in different contexts.
3. Apply international child protection frameworks and standards in field operations.
4. Develop strategies for safeguarding children in emergency and displacement settings.
5. Strengthen skills in psychosocial support and trauma-informed care for children.
6. Implement best practices for family tracing and reunification.
7. Design community-based interventions for migrant and displaced children.
8. Address issues of child labor, exploitation, and trafficking among mobile children.
9. Build effective coordination mechanisms with government and humanitarian agencies.
10. Utilize evidence-based monitoring and evaluation tools for child protection programs.
11. Advocate for child rights and policy interventions at local and national levels.
12. Integrate gender-sensitive approaches in child protection and migration programs.
13. Employ digital tools and technology to enhance protection and response strategies.
