Statelessness and the Protection of Stateless Persons Training Course

Introduction

Statelessness is a pressing global human rights challenge affecting millions of individuals who lack legal nationality. Without recognition as citizens of any country, stateless persons face barriers to fundamental rights, including education, healthcare, employment, and freedom of movement. Statelessness and Protection of Stateless Persons Training Course equips participants with the knowledge, tools, and strategies to understand the root causes, legal frameworks, and protection measures for stateless persons. Through engaging, interactive, and case-based learning, participants will gain actionable insights to advocate for human rights, strengthen policy implementation, and foster global citizenship inclusion.

This training leverages international law, UNHCR guidelines, migration policy, human rights instruments, and best practices to build capacity among professionals working in government, NGOs, humanitarian organizations, academia, and legal sectors. It emphasizes practical skills, applied learning, and global collaboration to address challenges surrounding statelessness, identity rights, protection systems, and sustainable inclusion policies.

Course Objectives

- Define statelessness and explain its root causes using global case studies.
- Analyze the legal frameworks governing nationality and statelessness.
- Interpret UNHCR guidelines on the protection of stateless persons.
- Explore the intersection of migration, asylum, and refugee protection.
- Assess state responsibilities under international law.
- Identify practical tools to advocate for the rights of stateless persons.
- Evaluate global and regional best practices in addressing statelessness.
- Examine barriers to documentation and civil registration.
- Strengthen community-based approaches to statelessness solutions.
- Develop policy strategies for nationality law reforms.
- Enhance institutional capacity to protect vulnerable groups.
- Utilize data-driven approaches to document stateless populations.
