Advanced International Tax Law and Cross-Border Tax Planning Training Course

Introduction

Advanced International Tax Law and Cross-Border Tax Planning Training Course is designed to equip tax professionals, legal practitioners, financial executives, policymakers and corporate advisors with advanced knowledge and practical skills in managing complex international taxation issues. As businesses increasingly operate across multiple jurisdictions, international tax compliance, cross-border transactions, foreign investment structures and global tax governance have become critical areas of organizational risk management and strategic decision-making. This course explores the evolving international tax landscape, including OECD International Tax Standards, Base Erosion and Profit Shifting (BEPS), BEPS 2.0, Global Minimum Tax (Pillar Two), Transfer Pricing Regulations, Double Taxation Agreements (DTAs), Permanent Establishment (PE) Rules, Tax Treaty Interpretation, Controlled Foreign Company (CFC) Rules and International Tax Dispute Resolution. Participants will gain an in-depth understanding of how domestic tax legislation interacts with international tax frameworks and how multinational enterprises can structure their global operations while maintaining transparency, regulatory compliance and tax efficiency.

The programme also emphasizes practical international tax planning strategies, cross-border tax optimization, multinational corporate taxation, withholding tax management, digital economy taxation, tax risk assessment and international tax compliance. Through real-world case studies, technical discussions, practical exercises and comparative jurisdictional analysis, participants will learn how to identify tax exposures, evaluate international investment structures, manage related-party transactions and develop sustainable tax strategies aligned with global regulatory expectations. Particular attention is given to emerging developments in global tax transparency, automatic exchange of information, beneficial ownership requirements, anti-tax avoidance legislation, tax information reporting and international cooperation between tax authorities. By the end of the course, participants will be better equipped to advise multinational businesses, manage complex international tax obligations, mitigate double taxation risks, address tax controversy and implement commercially sound cross-border tax planning solutions in an increasingly interconnected global economy.

Course Duration

10 days

Course Objectives

By the end of this training course, participants will be able to:

- Interpret advanced international tax laws, regulations and global taxation frameworks governing cross-border commercial activities.
- Apply OECD Model Tax Convention principles and international tax treaty provisions to complex multinational transactions.
- Develop effective cross-border tax planning strategies that balance tax efficiency, legal compliance and commercial objectives.
