Brownfield Redevelopment Planning Training Course

Introduction

Brownfield redevelopment planning is a strategic approach to transforming underutilized, contaminated, abandoned, or previously developed land into productive, sustainable, and economically viable assets. Brownfield Redevelopment Planning Training Course provides practical knowledge in brownfield assessment, site remediation, land-use planning, environmental risk management, urban regeneration, infrastructure renewal, investment planning, and stakeholder engagement. Participants will examine integrated redevelopment frameworks that align environmental restoration with economic development, social inclusion, climate resilience, and sustainable urban growth.

The course also explores public-private partnership approaches, development financing, regulatory compliance, environmental impact assessment, master planning, risk allocation, and project implementation. Through international case studies and practical planning exercises, participants will develop the skills required to evaluate brownfield opportunities, prepare redevelopment strategies, manage complex stakeholders, and create commercially viable and environmentally responsible redevelopment programs.

Course Objectives

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- Apply advanced brownfield redevelopment planning principles and frameworks.
- Conduct site assessment, contamination screening, and development feasibility analysis.
- Develop sustainable land-use and urban regeneration strategies.
- Apply environmental remediation and risk-management techniques.
- Integrate climate resilience, circular economy, and green infrastructure principles.
- Evaluate brownfield redevelopment investment and financing models.
- Structure effective public-private partnership arrangements for redevelopment projects.
- Apply environmental, social, and governance considerations to redevelopment.
- Develop stakeholder engagement and community participation strategies.
- Assess infrastructure, transportation, utilities, and development requirements.
- Apply regulatory, environmental, and planning compliance frameworks.
- Manage redevelopment risks, costs, timelines, and implementation priorities.
- Prepare integrated brownfield redevelopment master plans and implementation roadmaps.

Organizational Benefits

- Improved brownfield asset utilization and land productivity.
- Stronger environmental risk identification and management.
- Enhanced urban regeneration and infrastructure planning.
- Better investment appraisal and project prioritization.
