Course Curriculum & Modules

Climate-Smart Urban Development Training Course

Introduction

Climate-Smart Urban Development is a strategic approach to designing, financing, managing, and transforming cities to respond effectively to climate change while promoting sustainable economic growth, social inclusion, resilience, and improved quality of life. Climate-Smart Urban Development Training Course equips professionals with advanced knowledge and practical tools for climate-resilient urban planning, low-carbon development, green infrastructure, sustainable mobility, climate adaptation, disaster risk reduction, and urban environmental management. Participants will explore emerging approaches including smart cities, nature-based solutions, circular economy principles, climate finance, sustainable infrastructure, urban energy transition, carbon reduction, and data-driven urban planning. The course also examines how Public-Private Partnerships can mobilize investment and innovation for climate-smart urban infrastructure and services.

The programme provides practical frameworks for integrating climate considerations into urban master plans, infrastructure investments, land-use planning, housing, transport, water, waste management, energy, and municipal development strategies. Participants will examine international best practices and global case studies while learning how cities can assess climate risks, develop adaptation and mitigation strategies, establish measurable climate targets, and strengthen institutional capacity. Particular attention is given to inclusive and financially viable urban development, stakeholder engagement, climate-smart investment planning, green financing mechanisms, and sustainable Public-Private Partnerships. By the end of the course, participants will be better prepared to develop actionable climate-smart urban strategies that support resilient, inclusive, competitive, and environmentally sustainable cities.
