Gas Pipeline Integrity Management Training Course

Introduction

Gas Pipeline Integrity Management Training Course is designed to equip oil and gas professionals with advanced knowledge and practical skills in pipeline integrity management, gas transmission systems, pipeline inspection, corrosion control, risk-based inspection (RBI), and asset integrity assurance. This course explores modern pipeline integrity management systems (PIMS), pipeline risk assessment methodologies, inline inspection (ILI) technologies, non-destructive testing (NDT), intelligent pigging, corrosion monitoring, and pipeline defect assessment. Participants will learn how to identify threats such as internal and external corrosion, stress corrosion cracking, mechanical damage, fatigue, ground movement, and third-party interference while applying industry-recognized standards and best practices to maintain safe and reliable gas pipeline operations.

The programme examines the application of digital monitoring technologies, geographic information systems (GIS), supervisory control and data acquisition (SCADA), and integrity management software in improving pipeline visibility and decision-making. Participants will also explore emergency preparedness, incident investigation, regulatory reporting, and environmental risk mitigation to strengthen pipeline safety and operational resilience. By the end of the course, delegates will be better prepared to implement effective gas pipeline asset integrity strategies, reduce lifecycle costs, improve reliability, and support sustainable energy infrastructure management across onshore and offshore gas pipeline networks.

Course Duration

5 days
