Course Curriculum & Modules

Global Tax Reform Trends (OECD/G20) Training Course

Introduction

Global tax landscapes are undergoing transformative changes driven by OECD and G20 initiatives, digitalization, and increased international cooperation. Multinational corporations, governments, and tax authorities must navigate complex reforms that target base erosion, profit shifting, and digital economy taxation. Global Tax Reform Trends (OECD/G20) Training Course offers a comprehensive exploration of the latest tax reform trends, equipping participants with the knowledge to enhance compliance, optimize tax strategies, and understand the global tax policy environment. Participants will gain insights into key international frameworks, reform implementation strategies, and emerging compliance challenges.

Understanding these global tax reform trends is critical for businesses, policymakers, and tax professionals aiming to remain competitive in a rapidly evolving tax environment. The course emphasizes practical applications, real-world case studies, and collaborative discussions on OECD/G20-led reforms. Attendees will also develop skills to assess tax risk, align with international standards, and leverage technological tools for effective tax administration and reporting. By the end of this course, participants will be prepared to navigate cross-border taxation challenges with confidence and strategic insight.

Course Objectives

- Analyze OECD/G20 tax reform initiatives and their implications on global businesses.
- Understand Base Erosion and Profit Shifting (BEPS) Action Plans.
- Evaluate international digital economy taxation strategies.
- Assess transfer pricing reforms and compliance requirements.
- Identify emerging global tax risks and mitigation strategies.
- Implement effective tax governance frameworks.
- Interpret multilateral instrument (MLI) impacts on cross-border taxation.
- Apply country-by-country reporting for enhanced transparency.
- Explore international VAT/GST harmonization trends.
- Examine international tax treaty modifications and updates.
- Understand dispute resolution mechanisms under OECD guidelines.
- Leverage tax technology solutions for compliance and reporting.
- Strengthen public perception and reputation management in taxation.

Organizational Benefits

- Enhanced compliance with international tax regulations.
- Reduced risk of penalties and audits.
- Improved transfer pricing and cross-border tax planning.
- Greater alignment with OECD/G20 tax policies.
- Strengthened corporate governance and transparency.
- Better risk management and scenario planning.
- Enhanced stakeholder confidence and reputation.
- Efficient implementation of digital tax solutions.
- Access to international best practices and case studies.
- Empowered teams with actionable global tax insights.
