Intellectual Property Licensing and Technology Commercialisation Agreements Training Course

Course Introduction

Intellectual Property (IP) Licensing and Technology Commercialisation Agreements are essential tools for transforming innovation, research, creativity and proprietary technologies into sustainable commercial value. Organisations increasingly rely on intellectual property rights, technology transfer, strategic licensing, innovation management and commercialisation frameworks to generate revenue, expand market access and establish competitive advantages. Intellectual Property Licensing and Technology Commercialisation Agreements Training Course provides comprehensive knowledge and practical skills in negotiating, drafting, structuring and managing intellectual property licensing agreements involving patents, trademarks, copyrights, industrial designs, trade secrets, software, proprietary know-how and emerging technologies. Participants will explore different licensing models, including exclusive licensing, non-exclusive licensing, sole licensing, cross-licensing, sublicensing and royalty-based arrangements, while examining the legal, financial and commercial considerations that influence successful IP transactions.

The course also examines the complete technology commercialisation lifecycle, from IP identification and valuation to technology transfer, market readiness, commercial partnerships and post-licensing performance management. Participants will develop practical competencies in IP valuation, royalty determination, technology transfer agreements, commercial negotiation, licensing compliance, infringement protection, contractual risk allocation and dispute resolution. Particular attention will be given to digital innovation, artificial intelligence, software licensing, university-industry partnerships, research commercialisation, start-up ecosystems and international IP transactions. Through practical exercises, contract drafting simulations and real-world case studies, participants will learn how to protect intellectual assets, negotiate commercially beneficial agreements, minimise contractual risks and maximise the financial and strategic value of intellectual property.

Course Duration

5 Days

Course Objectives

By the end of this training course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the legal principles, regulatory frameworks and international standards governing intellectual property licensing and technology commercialisation.
- Identify and evaluate different categories of intellectual property assets, including patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and industrial designs.
- Develop effective IP licensing strategies aligned with organisational innovation, investment and commercialisation objectives.
- Draft, review and negotiate comprehensive intellectual property licensing and technology transfer agreements.
- Differentiate between exclusive, non-exclusive, sole, cross-licensing and sublicensing arrangements.
- Apply effective IP valuation methodologies to determine commercial licensing fees, royalty rates and technology transfer pricing.
- Structure royalty payments, milestone payments, upfront fees and revenue-sharing arrangements.
- Conduct intellectual property due diligence and assess ownership, infringement exposure and contractual liabilities.
- Develop technology commercialisation strategies that maximise intellectual asset utilisation and revenue generation.
- Manage confidentiality, trade secrets, data protection and proprietary information in licensing transactions.
- Negotiate international technology licensing agreements and understand cross-border IP protection considerations.
- Identify and mitigate contractual risks involving IP infringement, warranties, indemnities, termination and dispute resolution.
- Establish effective IP portfolio management, licensing compliance and commercial performance monitoring systems.

Target Audience

- Intellectual property lawyers, legal advisors and corporate counsel.
- Technology transfer officers and university research commercialisation professionals.
- Business development managers and commercialisation specialists.
- Corporate executives, directors and senior management professionals.
- Research scientists, innovation managers and R&D professionals.
- Entrepreneurs, start-up founders and technology company executives.
- Patent attorneys, IP consultants and intellectual property portfolio managers.
- Licensing managers, contract administrators, investors and venture capital professionals.

Course Modules

Module 1: Foundations of Intellectual Property Licensing and Technology Commercialisation

- Overview of intellectual property rights and their commercial significance.
- Types of intellectual property: patents, trademarks, copyrights and industrial designs.
- Understanding trade secrets, proprietary know-how and confidential information.
- Legal principles governing IP ownership, protection and exploitation.
- Introduction to technology commercialisation frameworks and business models.
- Case Study: A technology start-up develops an innovative software platform and must determine which intellectual property rights should be protected before entering licensing negotiations with an international technology company.

Module 2: Intellectual Property Licensing Models and Contract Structures

- Exclusive, non-exclusive and sole licensing arrangements.
- Cross-licensing, sublicensing and technology pooling agreements.
- Territorial, field-of-use and market-specific licensing restrictions.
- Open-source licensing and proprietary software licensing frameworks.
- Structuring licensing agreements for domestic and international markets.
- Case Study: A pharmaceutical company negotiates an exclusive patent licence with a biotechnology firm while retaining certain rights for research and development activities.

Module 3: Drafting and Negotiating Intellectual Property Licensing Agreements

- Essential components of an enforceable IP licensing agreement.
- Defining licensed intellectual property and permitted uses.
- Negotiating licence scope, duration, territory and exclusivity.
- Drafting representations, warranties and contractual obligations.
- Managing renewal, assignment, termination and post-termination rights.
- Case Study: A multinational software developer negotiates a licensing agreement with a regional distributor, addressing territorial restrictions, sublicensing permissions and ownership of software improvements.

Module 4: IP Valuation, Royalty Structures and Commercial Financial Models

- Intellectual property valuation using income, market and cost approaches.
- Determining appropriate royalty rates and licensing fees.
- Structuring upfront payments, milestone payments and recurring royalties.
- Revenue-sharing arrangements and performance-based licensing models.
- Financial forecasting, royalty audits and licensing revenue optimisation.
- Case Study: A university seeks to commercialise a patented renewable energy technology and must determine an appropriate royalty structure for an industrial manufacturing partner.

Module 5: Technology Transfer, Research Commercialisation and Innovation Partnerships

- Principles and processes of technology transfer agreements.
- Commercialisation of university research and publicly funded innovations.
- Structuring university-industry partnerships and collaborative R&D agreements.
- Ownership of background IP, foreground IP and jointly developed technologies.
- Managing technology readiness, market entry and commercial exploitation.
- Case Study: A university research institution partners with a manufacturing company to commercialise a newly developed agricultural technology, requiring clear provisions on ownership, licensing and revenue sharing.

Module 6: Intellectual Property Due Diligence, Compliance and Risk Management

- Conducting IP ownership verification and licensing due diligence.
- Identifying infringement risks, conflicting rights and encumbrances.
- Managing confidentiality, trade secrets and non-disclosure obligations.
- Drafting indemnities, liability limitations and infringement warranties.
- Monitoring licence compliance, reporting obligations and royalty payments.
- ase Study: An investor evaluates a technology start-up before acquisition and discovers that some critical software components are licensed under third-party open-source terms, requiring contractual and commercial risk assessment.

Module 7: International IP Licensing and Emerging Technology Agreements

- International intellectual property licensing frameworks and treaties.
- Cross-border technology transfer and jurisdictional considerations.
- Software-as-a-Service (SaaS), cloud computing and digital licensing agreements.
- Artificial intelligence, machine learning and data-related IP considerations.
- Licensing emerging technologies, digital products and advanced innovations.
- Case Study: A technology company expands into three international markets and must restructure its licensing agreements to address territorial IP protection, local regulatory requirements and cross-border technology transfer restrictions.

Module 8: Dispute Resolution, Contract Enforcement and Strategic IP Portfolio Management

- Common disputes arising from intellectual property licensing agreements.
- Managing royalty disputes, breach of contract and unauthorised sublicensing.
- Arbitration, mediation, litigation and alternative dispute resolution.
- Contract termination, licence revocation and post-termination obligations.
- Developing long-term IP licensing and commercialisation strategies.
- Case Study: A technology licensor discovers that its commercial partner has exceeded the permitted scope of an exclusive licence and underreported sales. Participants develop a dispute resolution and contractual enforcement strategy.

Training Methodology
