Performance Management in Health Training Course

Introduction

Performance Management in Health is a strategic and data-driven approach designed to enhance the quality, efficiency, and accountability of healthcare systems. In today's rapidly evolving global health environment, healthcare institutions face increasing pressure to improve patient outcomes, optimize workforce productivity, and ensure compliance with regulatory standards. Performance Management in Health Training Course equips participants with modern performance management frameworks, digital health analytics tools, and evidence-based decision-making techniques to strengthen healthcare delivery systems.

The course integrates contemporary trends such as healthcare KPIs, digital health transformation, patient-centered care, clinical performance dashboards, and results-based financing. It empowers healthcare professionals, managers, and policymakers to design, implement, and evaluate performance systems that align with Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), Universal Health Coverage (UHC), and global quality improvement standards. Participants will gain practical skills in monitoring health indicators, improving service delivery, and fostering continuous quality improvement across healthcare institutions.
