Course Curriculum & Modules

Preservation Risk Management Training Course

Introduction

Preservation Risk Management is a strategic discipline that focuses on identifying, assessing, mitigating, and monitoring risks that threaten the preservation of physical assets, cultural heritage, archives, infrastructure, industrial equipment, digital records, and critical organizational resources. Preservation Risk Management Training Course equips participants with practical knowledge and internationally recognized methodologies to strengthen resilience, sustainability, compliance, disaster preparedness, preventive conservation, asset lifecycle management, business continuity, and enterprise risk management. Participants will learn how to integrate risk-based decision-making, predictive maintenance, climate resilience, environmental monitoring, digital transformation, and ISO-aligned preservation strategies into organizational operations.

The course combines global best practices, emerging technologies, and practical case studies to enable organizations to minimize deterioration, reduce operational losses, optimize maintenance planning, improve regulatory compliance, enhance emergency preparedness, and protect valuable resources. Through practical exercises and risk assessment techniques, participants gain competencies in hazard identification, vulnerability analysis, resilience planning, conservation management, stakeholder engagement, sustainability practices, and continuous improvement for long-term preservation success.

Course Objectives
