Public Finance for Health Systems Strengthening Training Course

Introduction

Public finance plays a pivotal role in achieving universal health coverage, improving service delivery, and strengthening health systems globally. Public Finance for Health Systems Strengthening Training Course is designed to provide participants with cutting-edge knowledge and practical tools to effectively manage health financing, ensure efficient allocation of resources, enhance accountability, and promote fiscal sustainability. By integrating key principles of public financial management, resource mobilization, and health policy reform, the course empowers stakeholders to drive impactful change in health systems.

Through case studies, interactive sessions, and hands-on exercises, participants will learn how to optimize revenue generation, design equitable budgeting frameworks, improve financial transparency, and strengthen expenditure efficiency. The training emphasizes governance, equity, and innovation in financing strategies to create resilient and inclusive health systems that can respond to emerging challenges, including pandemics and evolving population health needs.
