Snowflake Streams and Tasks Training Course

Introduction

Snowflake Streams and Tasks Training Course is designed to equip participants with practical skills in automated data processing, change data capture (CDC), incremental data loading, and workflow orchestration using the Snowflake Data Cloud platform. The course explores how Snowflake Streams capture data manipulation changes, including inserts, updates, and deletes, while Snowflake Tasks automate SQL execution and scheduled data pipeline operations. Participants will gain expertise in designing scalable data engineering workflows, implementing real-time data synchronization, managing transactional data changes, and optimizing cloud-based data integration using modern data automation techniques.

The training emphasizes hands-on implementation of Snowflake Streams and Tasks for enterprise data pipelines, automated ETL and ELT workflows, data warehouse management, and continuous data transformation. Participants will explore stream consumption, task scheduling, task dependencies, serverless task execution, error handling, and monitoring. Through practical exercises and global industry case studies, learners will develop the capabilities to build reliable, secure, and cost-efficient automated data workflows that support business intelligence, advanced analytics, and data-driven decision-making.
