Social Dialogue for Workers' Welfare Training Course

Introduction

Social dialogue has become a cornerstone of modern labour governance, decent work agenda, and sustainable industrial relations systems. In an era defined by global workforce transformation, gig economy expansion, digital labour platforms, and increasing demand for equitable labour standards, strengthening structured engagement between workers, employers, and government is essential. Social Dialogue for Workers' Welfare Training Course is designed to build institutional and individual capacity to promote inclusive negotiation, collective bargaining, workplace democracy, and social protection frameworks that safeguard workers' rights and wellbeing.

The course equips participants with practical tools to enhance tripartite cooperation, labour law compliance, dispute resolution mechanisms, and participatory decision-making systems. It emphasizes real-world application through case studies on union-employer negotiations, wage policy reforms, occupational safety improvements, and social protection expansion programs. By the end of the training, participants will be able to design and implement effective worker welfare strategies aligned with ILO standards, ESG frameworks, and sustainable development goals (SDGs).
