Trade Union Administration and Management Training Course

Introduction

The modern industrial landscape is undergoing a radical shift driven by the Fourth Industrial Revolution and the rapid integration of Artificial Intelligence in the workplace. As algorithmic management becomes a standard in various sectors, trade unions face the dual challenge of protecting worker autonomy and addressing the psychological hazards of digital surveillance. Trade Union Administration and Management Training Course provides a comprehensive framework for Trade Union Administration and Management, equipping leaders with the skills to navigate the "labour constitution" and advocate for collective rights in an increasingly individualised employment environment

Effective union administration in 2026 requires more than traditional negotiation skills; it demands a sophisticated understanding of digital activism, data privacy, and transnational worker solidarity. By embracing transformational leadership and digital organising strategies, unions can revitalize their membership and remain relevant to a younger, tech-reliant workforce. This program bridges the gap between traditional collective bargaining and the modern requirements of human-centered AI deployment and sustainable labour practices.

Course Duration

5 days

Course Objectives

- Implement digital activism pathways to reverse declining membership density
- Develop frameworks to mitigate the risks of Algorithmic Management (AM) and digital monitoring
- Master the nuances of the Employment Rights Act 2025 and its impact on strike ballots and recognition
- Foster high employee engagement through servant and transformational leadership styles within union structures
- Harness social networking, messaging apps, and TikTok for targeted member outreach
- Advocate for workers' rights regarding GDPR and the prevention of "function creep" in workplace data collection
- Align union strategies with Vocational Education and Training (VET) for the green economy
- Modernize negotiation tactics to include protections against work intensification and dehumanized digital picking systems.
- Address the "disability employment gap" and advocate for precarious gig-economy workers
- Manage union assets and dues with transparency using modern FinTech and auditing tools.
- Integrate Occupational Safety and Health (OSH) standards specifically tailored to combat digital burnout.
- Build capacity to engage effectively with governments and international development actors
- Leverage digital platforms to influence public opinion and lobby for "human-centric" AI policies
