Urban Drainage Planning Training Course

Introduction

Urban Drainage Planning is essential for managing stormwater, reducing urban flooding, protecting infrastructure, and building climate-resilient cities. Urban Drainage Planning Training Course focuses on integrated urban drainage systems, sustainable stormwater management, hydraulic modelling, flood risk assessment, drainage master planning, green infrastructure, climate adaptation, and resilient urban development. Participants will develop practical competencies in designing, evaluating, and implementing efficient drainage networks that respond to rapid urbanization, changing rainfall patterns, environmental pressures, and increasing infrastructure demands.

The course provides practical and strategic knowledge for professionals involved in urban planning, civil engineering, water resources management, municipal infrastructure, environmental management, and climate-resilient development. It incorporates international standards, digital drainage modelling, nature-based solutions, flood mitigation strategies, asset management, and global case studies from cities that have implemented innovative urban drainage programmes. Participants will learn how to integrate drainage planning into sustainable urban development while improving public safety, infrastructure performance, environmental protection, and long-term municipal resilience.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:
